

Rewilding Europe job vacancy

Can you see yourself joining a passionate and innovative team of people working to make Europe a wilder place? Would you like to use your skills and experience supporting the recovery of wildlife populations and natural processes across Europe, for the benefit of people and nature? If so, we might have the ideal job for you.

After a decade of work, Rewilding Europe is now stepping up its operations. We have developed an exciting new strategy and set out ambitious goals for 2030. We now need to strengthen our Central Team and are looking to fill several vacancies. An initial set of five positions is now open for application, including the one listed below.

Communications Officer (32 hours)

Rewilding Europe

An independent charitable foundation registered in the Netherlands, Rewilding Europe is a pan-European initiative operating at the frontline of European rewilding. We want to make Europe a wilder place, for the benefit of both nature and people.

A decade of committed work means Rewilding Europe is now well established, with a team of people based in 18 different European countries. Working with dedicated partner organisations, our focus is the rewilding of large landscapes and the scaling up of rewilding across Europe.

Today, the rewilding movement has never been stronger. As we support the growth of this movement, Rewilding Europe will continue to act as a pioneer and frontrunner. Our lean and agile Central Team currently comprises seven lead positions, heading up a multinational team of 24 people. Our head office is based in Nijmegen, the Netherlands. You can read more about Rewilding Europe at www.rewildingeurope.com.

Role

With Rewilding Europe growing and striving, the role of the Communications Officer is firstly supporting Rewilding Europe's Communications Team in their various communication activities and secondly to bring internal communications to the next level. The Communications Officer will act as a connector, communicator and spider in the web. The Communications Officer reports to the Head of Communications and works closely together with the Communications Team and Finance & Operations Team (with regards to internal communications).

Main responsibilities

The main responsibilities of the Communications Officer are:

- Supports the production of promotional and communications materials.
- Responsible for internal communications (e.g. newsletters, organisational updates, mailings, news updates).
- Prepares posts for social media channels in collaboration with the Communication Managers.
- Supports website management (uploading content, search engine optimization).
- Helps organising (internal) events.
- Manages the external contacts and press list.
- Maintains and develops Rewilding Europe's image and footage databank.
- Reviews newsletters, reports and partner updates to generate items to be used by Rewilding Europe in their communications.

Key qualifications

- Appropriate qualification in communications.
- Demonstrable experience and understanding of communications best practices.
- Background or knowledge in ecology and nature highly recommendable
- Excellent in English.
- Good writing skills and being able to compose engaging and accurate content.
- Knowledge of modern communication tools, preferably including Wordpress, Social Media, Google Analytics and basic knowledge of design programs such as Indesign, Illustrator and Canva.
- Passionate about Rewilding Europe's mission, vision and objectives.

Remuneration

- Rewilding Europe is a professional and dynamic organisation with a friendly working culture. We offer competitive salaries, commensurate with background, expertise, level of experience, and country of residence.
- The ideal candidate will ideally be located in the Netherlands, in or close to Rewilding Europe's home office in Nijmegen.

Information and procedure

We invite those interested in this position to submit a motivational letter and CV before 9 May 2022 at 17.00 hrs CET to info@rewildingeurope.com. Please include the code 2.COMMS in the subject line. Any queries regarding this position should also be sent to this email address.

We strive to ensure that our employees are a reflection of society and the international character of our organisation.